

Yining Eads

Yining Eads is an attorney in Advanced Markets Team. She received her J.D. degree from the University of Washington School of Law. She is enrolled in UW Tax LLM program and is expected to graduate in Spring 2024. She is admitted to the State of Washington Bar Association and is also licensed to practice law in the People's Republic of China.

Before she joined National Life Group, she was in private practice with focuses on estate planning and tax dispute resolution practices for three years. In her practice, Yining has helped high-net-worth individuals and families design sophisticated wealth passing plans in order to transfer assets to future generations while maximizing asset protection and minimizing a variety of tax consequences. She is also an expert in cross-border planning and has assisted individuals and families that have ties with the United States to minimize the U.S. gift and estate taxes.

Yining speaks both English and Mandarin Chinese. She lives in Seattle, Washington with her husband and two orange cats. Outside work, she enjoys travelling, playing badminton, and spending time with her family.